Uses and Disclosures of Your Medical Information

We use and disclose medical information in the ways described below.

Treatment

We may use your medical information to provide medical treatment or services to you. We may disclose medical information about you to doctors, nurses, technicians, therapists, medical, nursing or other healthcare students, or other personnel taking care of you inside and outside of Tanner Health System. We may use and disclose your medical information to coordinate or manage your care. As examples, a doctor treating you for a broken leg may need to know if you have diabetes because diabetes may slow the healing process, or the doctor may need to tell the dietitian if you have diabetes so you can have appropriate meals. Departments within Tanner Health System may share your medical information to schedule the tests and procedures you need, such as prescriptions, laboratory tests and X-rays. We also may disclose your medical information to healthcare facilities if you need to be transferred from a Tanner Health System facility to another hospital, a nursing home, a home health provider, rehabilitation center, etc. We also may disclose your medical information to people outside Tanner Health System who are involved in your care while you are here or after you leave Tanner Health System, such as other healthcare providers, family members or pharmacists.

Payment

We may use and disclose your medical information so that the treatment and services you receive can be billed and collected from you, an insurance company or another company or person. For example, we may give your insurance company (e.g., Medicare, Medicaid, CHAMPUS/TRICARE or a private insurance company) information about surgery you received so your insurance company will pay us for the surgery. We also may tell your insurance company about a treatment you are going to receive in order to determine whether you are eligible for coverage or to obtain prior approval from the company to cover payment for the treatment. We could disclose your information to a collection agency to obtain overdue payment. We might also be asked to disclose information to a regulatory agency or other entity to determine whether the services we provided were medical necessary or appropriately billed.

Healthcare Operations

We may use and disclose your medical information for any operational function necessary to run Tanner Health System and its facilities as a business and as a licensed/certified/accredited facility, including uses/disclosures of your information such as in the following examples

- (1) Conducting quality or patient safety activities, population-based activities relating to improving health or reducing healthcare costs, case management and care coordination, and contacting of healthcare providers and you with information about treatment alternatives
- (2) Reviewing the qualifications of healthcare professionals and evaluating their performance, conducting training programs for staff, students, trainees or practitioners and non-healthcare professionals performing accreditation, certification, licensing or credentialing activities
- (3) Engaging in activities related to the evaluation, creation, renewal or replacement of health insurance benefits
- (4) Conducting or arranging for medical review, legal services, and auditing functions for Tanner Health System
- (5) Business planning, development, management and administrative activities, including things like customer service; resolution of complaints; sale, transfer, merger or consolidation of all or part of Tanner Health System entities and the background research related to such activities
- (6) Creating and using de-identified health information or a limited data set or having a business associate perform data aggregation or other tasks for various operational purposes

As additional examples, we may disclose your medical information to physicians on our medical staff who review the care that was provided to patients by their colleagues. We may disclose information to doctors, nurses, therapists, technicians, medical, nursing or other healthcare students and Tanner Health System personnel for teaching purposes. We may combine medical information about many patients to decide what services Tanner Health System should offer, and whether new services are cost-effective and how we compare from a quality perspective with other hospitals/health systems. Sometimes, we may remove your identifying information from your medical information so others may use it to study healthcare services, products and delivery without learning who you are. We may disclose information to other healthcare providers involved in your treatment to permit them to carry out the work of their facility or to get paid. We may provide information about your treatment to an ambulance company that brought you to Tanner Health System so that the ambulance company can get paid for their services.

Activities of Our Affiliates

We may disclose your medical information to our affiliates in connection with your treatment or other Tanner Health System activities.

Activities of Organized Healthcare Arrangements in Which We Participate

For certain activities, Tanner Health System, members of its medical staff and other independent professionals are called an organized healthcare arrangement. We may disclose information about you to healthcare providers participating in our organized healthcare arrangement, such as a managed care or physician-health system organization. Such disclosures would be made in connection with our services, your treatment under a health plan arrangement, and other activities of the organized healthcare arrangement. We operate under this joint notice for activities involving Tanner Health System.

Important: Tanner Health System may share your medical information with members of the Tanner Health System medical staff and other independent medical professionals in order to provide treatment, payment and healthcare operations and perform other activities for Tanner Health System. While those professionals have agreed to follow this Notice and otherwise participate in the privacy program of Tanner Health System, they are independent professionals and Tanner Health System expressly disclaims any responsibility or liability for their acts or omissions relating to your care or privacy/security rights.

Health Services, Products, Treatment Alternatives and Health-Related Benefits

We may use and disclose your medical information in providing face-to-face communications; promotional gifts; refill reminders or communications about a drug or biologic; case management or care coordination; or to direct or recommend alternative treatments, therapies, providers, or settings of care; or to describe a health-related product/service (or payment for such product/service) that is provided through a benefit plan; or to offer information on other providers participating in a healthcare network that we participate in, or to offer other health-related products, benefits or services that may be of interest to you. We may use and disclose your medical information to contact and remind you of an appointment for treatment or medical care.

We may use and disclose your medical information to raise money for Tanner Health System. Tanner Medical Foundation is Tanner Health System's primary fundraising entity. Tanner Health System is allowed to disclose certain parts of your medical information to the Tanner Medical Foundation or others involved in fundraising, unless you tell us you do not want such information used and disclosed. For example, Tanner Health System may disclose to the Tanner Medical Foundation demographic information, such as your name, address, other contact information, telephone number, gender, age, date of birth, the dates you received treatment by Tanner Health System, the department that provided you service, your treating physician, outcome information, and health insurance status. You have a right to opt-out of receiving fundraising requests. If you do not want Tanner Health System to contact you for fundraising, please notify Tanner Medical Foundation in writing.

Directory

We may include certain information about you in the Tanner Health System inpatient directory while you are a patient in these facilities. This information may include your name, your room number, your general condition (fair, stable, etc.) and your religious affiliation. Your religious affiliation may be given to a member of the clergy, such as a minister, priest or rabbi, even if they don't ask for you by name. Directory information, except for your religious affiliation, may be released to people who ask for you by name. This is so your family, friends and clergy can visit you in Tanner Health System and generally know how you are doing. If you do not want this information given out, please tell the registrar, receptionist or nurse.

Individuals Involved in Your Care or Payment for Your Care

Should you become incapacitated, we may release your medical information to the person you named in your durable power of attorney for healthcare (if you have one), or otherwise to a friend or family member who is your personal representative (i.e., empowered under state or other law to make health-related decisions for you). We may give information to someone who helps pay for your care. In addition, we may disclose your medical information to an entity assisting in disaster relief efforts so that your family can be notified about your condition. The Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) also allows us at certain times to speak with those who are/were involved in your care/payment activities while you were being treated as patient and/or even after your death, if we reasonably infer based on our professional judgment that you would not object. If you do not wish for us to speak with a particular person about your care, you should notify the registrar, receptionist or nurse.

Research

We may use and disclose your medical information for research purposes. Most research projects, however, are subject to a special approval process. Most research projects require your permission if a researcher will be involved in your care or will have access to your name, address or other information that identifies you. However, the law allows some research to be done using your medical information without requiring your authorization.

This release would be necessary for Tanner Health System to provide you with healthcare, to protect your health and safety or the health and safety of others, or for the safety and security of the law enforcement officer or the correctional institution.

Incidental Disclosures

Although we train our staff in privacy, due to the nature of the way treatment and billing occurs within Tanner Health System facilities, your medical or billing information may be overheard or seen by persons/entities not involved directly in your care. For example, your visitors or visitors visiting other patients on your treatment floor could inadvertently overhear a conversation about you or witness a treatment episode. These types of situations are often unavoidable.

Business Associates

Your medical or billing information could be disclosed to persons or companies (“vendors”) outside Tanner Health System who are under contract with us or others to provide certain services to you and/or to Tanner Health System. We require these vendors to sign special confidentiality agreements with Tanner Health System before giving them access to your information. They are also subject to penalties by the federal government if they use/disclose your information in a way that is not allowed by law.

Federal law provides additional protection for information that result from alcohol and drug rehabilitation treatment programs.

Note During a single Tanner Health System visit, you may receive a bill for payment from multiple sources, including Tanner Health System, laboratories, individual physicians who cared for you, specialists, radiologists, etc. Therefore, if you wish to restrict a disclosure to your health insurance company from all these parties, you must contact each independent healthcare provider separately and you must submit payment in full to each individual provider. Tanner Health System expressly disclaims any responsibility or liability for independent medical staff acts or omissions relating to your HIPAA privacy rights.

If we do agree to a request for restriction, we will comply with your request unless the information is needed to provide you with emergency treatment or to make a disclosure that is required under law. In your request, you must tell us: (1) what information you want to limit; (2) whether you want to limit our use, disclosure or both; and (3) to whom you want the limits to apply, for example, disclosures to your adult children. The contact person listed below can help you with these requests if needed.

To file a complaint with Tanner Health System, you may communicate with the member of the healthcare team managing your care, contact the department supervisor, risk management or the privacy officer.
